

Suphanburi

Rural Experience

Suphanburi Rural Experience

Baan Krang Temple

Visit this 300 years old Ayudhaya temple, walk through the local market, and enjoy the local food and product.

Kuan Yin Image - Pang Muang Chapel

Communities on River Banks

The Floating Pagoda

Baan Krang Market

Buffalo Village - Suphanburi

Before buffalo is left roam aimlessly and faded from farmer life today, we, the Buffalo Village at Sriprachan district of Suphanburi province, wish to pay tribute to this particular aspect of Thai culture and history. We see ourselves as a resource center to inspire the public to appreciate this cute beast and its mighty contribution to Thailand in the past.

Farmer Village

Thai farmer usually settle together like a cluster of extended families, with members of the community caring for and helping one another. Their houses on stilts are made of wood and natural materials.

His Majesty's King "New Theory"
on Managing Agricultural Land Project

Herbal Garden

For farmer self-sufficient, the concept of the "New Theory" is to allocate the agricultural land, which in Thailand average 10-15 Rai (1.6 ha-2.4 ha) per household into 4 proportion, 30-30-30-10 in percentage, for reservoir, primary agricultural purposes, horticultural crops, living and household vegetables, respectively.

Thai Style House

Rice Mill

Sugar Mill

Thai-Style Teak Wood Houses

One of the largest and the most beautiful teak wood houses in Thailand. Enjoy lunch with the amazing river scenery and Thai folk dance performance in lively local style.

Don Chedi Monument

Interesting Places in Suphanburi

Don Chedi Monument

Built in the Ayudhaya period around 350 years ago, this ancient pagoda was to remark the memorable occasion of the conspicuous victory of King Naresuan the Great over King Maha Uparacha of Myanmar in the honorable elephant combat. The memorial pagoda was found in 1913 in ruined condition. At present, only the base of this pagoda can be seen inside the new monument.

Banhan - Chaemsai Tower

Banhan - Chaemsai Tower

The highest tower in Thailand with the height of 123 meters. The great place to view the town and the surrounding rice field.

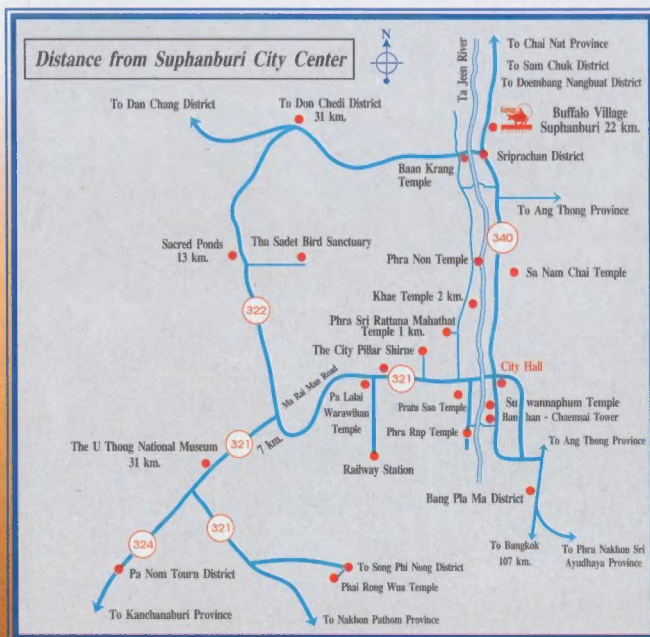

Luang Pho To, Pa Lelai Temple

Suphanburi City Pillar Shrine

Travel Information

Suphanburi is only approximately 100 km. away from Bangkok. Take highway no. 340 via Bang Bua Thong district of Nonthaburi province. Train leaves Hua Lum Pong railway station in Bangkok to Suphanburi station daily at 4.30 pm. Bus leaves Bangkok hourly at northern bus terminal (Mor Chit) and southern bus terminal.

Your Travel Agent.

PP&P TRANSPORT CO.,LTD
ใบอนุญาตประกอบธุรกิจนำเที่ยวเลขที่ 11/2679

SUPHANBURI
FACTORY OUTLET

PP & P TRANSPORT CO.,LTD.

45/8-9 Settasiri Rd. Samseannai, Phayathai, Bangkok, Thailand 10400

Tel : 0-2619-6326-9 Fax : 0-2271-3186

222/1 Suphanburi-Chainat Rd. Sriprachan, Suphanburi, Thailand 72140

Tel : 0-3558-2591-3 Fax : 0-3558-1676